The owner of the Oyster Catcher – a beautiful Grade II-listed 17th-century net loft on Cornwall's Mousehole harbour (uniquehomestays.com) – has sought out old treasures from flea markets and preserved their seasoned state to create a Scandi-chic retreat. Placing emphasis on texture and keeping the colour palette limited lends simplicity to this guest room; the weathered wooden beams and granite columns are complemented by natural linen bedding. For similar, try the 'Belgian Washed Linen' collection from The White Company (thewhitecompany.com). LD
