

Britain's best beach huts (and you can actually sleep in them)

Suki

Torpoint, Cornwall

The shell-pink interiors of this brand's next-level beach "huts" echo the colour of the sand on Whitsand Bay, the sensational beach stretching out below, along four miles of Cornwall's south coast. For beach lovers, it is heaven; and for design lovers too – Suki's Japandi interiors are exquisite, the pared-down luxury never competing with the view outside but curated to maximise it, with a freestanding bath at the picture window, floor-to-ceiling glazing in the living room and a cedarwood hot tub on a deck wide open to the luminous blue surroundings.

From £1,850 a week, sleeping two plus one baby and one pet, with Unique Homestays (uniquehomestays.com)
