

10 Pretty Holiday Cottages Near London

Cobbled streets, pretty gardens, country air – a bit of time away in a cosy cottage is always a good idea. From Cotswold boltholes to family-size properties in Kent, here are some of our favourites within easy reach of the capital...

Inkwell Cottage, Cotswolds

Built from the Cotswolds' trademark honeyed stone, this is one of the chicest options on this list. In Burford, 20 miles west of Oxford, it has plenty of original features amid the updated interiors. There's a loft-style bedroom with a king-size bed, a ground-floor bathroom and a cosy living area. Couples can relax by the wood burner, dine in the courtyard, and explore Burford's antique shops and boutiques. The quaint village of Bibury is a 15-minute drive away, while Blenheim Palace can be reached in around 30 minutes.

From £750 per short break.
