Cabins and cottages: bolt holes for two

7 Wishbone, Worcestershire

Shrouded in foliage at a former fruit farm, Wishbone's deserted look disguises the various luxuries of this barn conversion. Original 17th-century timbers and truss ceilings have been joined by a Nespresso machine and king-size bed; the upstairs hayloft is now a snug. Outside, beyond a patio and potted herbs, are 16 private, leafy acres. Once you have finished exploring those, head to the spa town of Malvern.

8 Little Scarlet, Oxfordshire

Adjacent his-and-hers bathtubs epitomise the romanticism of this grade II listed cottage, in the quintessential Cotswolds village of Burford, with its many antiques shops. Share candlelit dinners in the courtyard and then a king-size bed in the eaves. The beamed sitting room has an inglenook fire.
