

BEFORE TRAVELLING, PLEASE ALWAYS CHECK THE LATEST GOVERNMENT ADVICE ABOUT YOUR DESTINATION

CHECK TRAVEL ADVICE

PLACES TO STAY

The Bath Arms at Longleat, Wiltshire: the prettiest pub for miles

INSPIRATION

Will we be able to travel this Christmas? All your questions answered

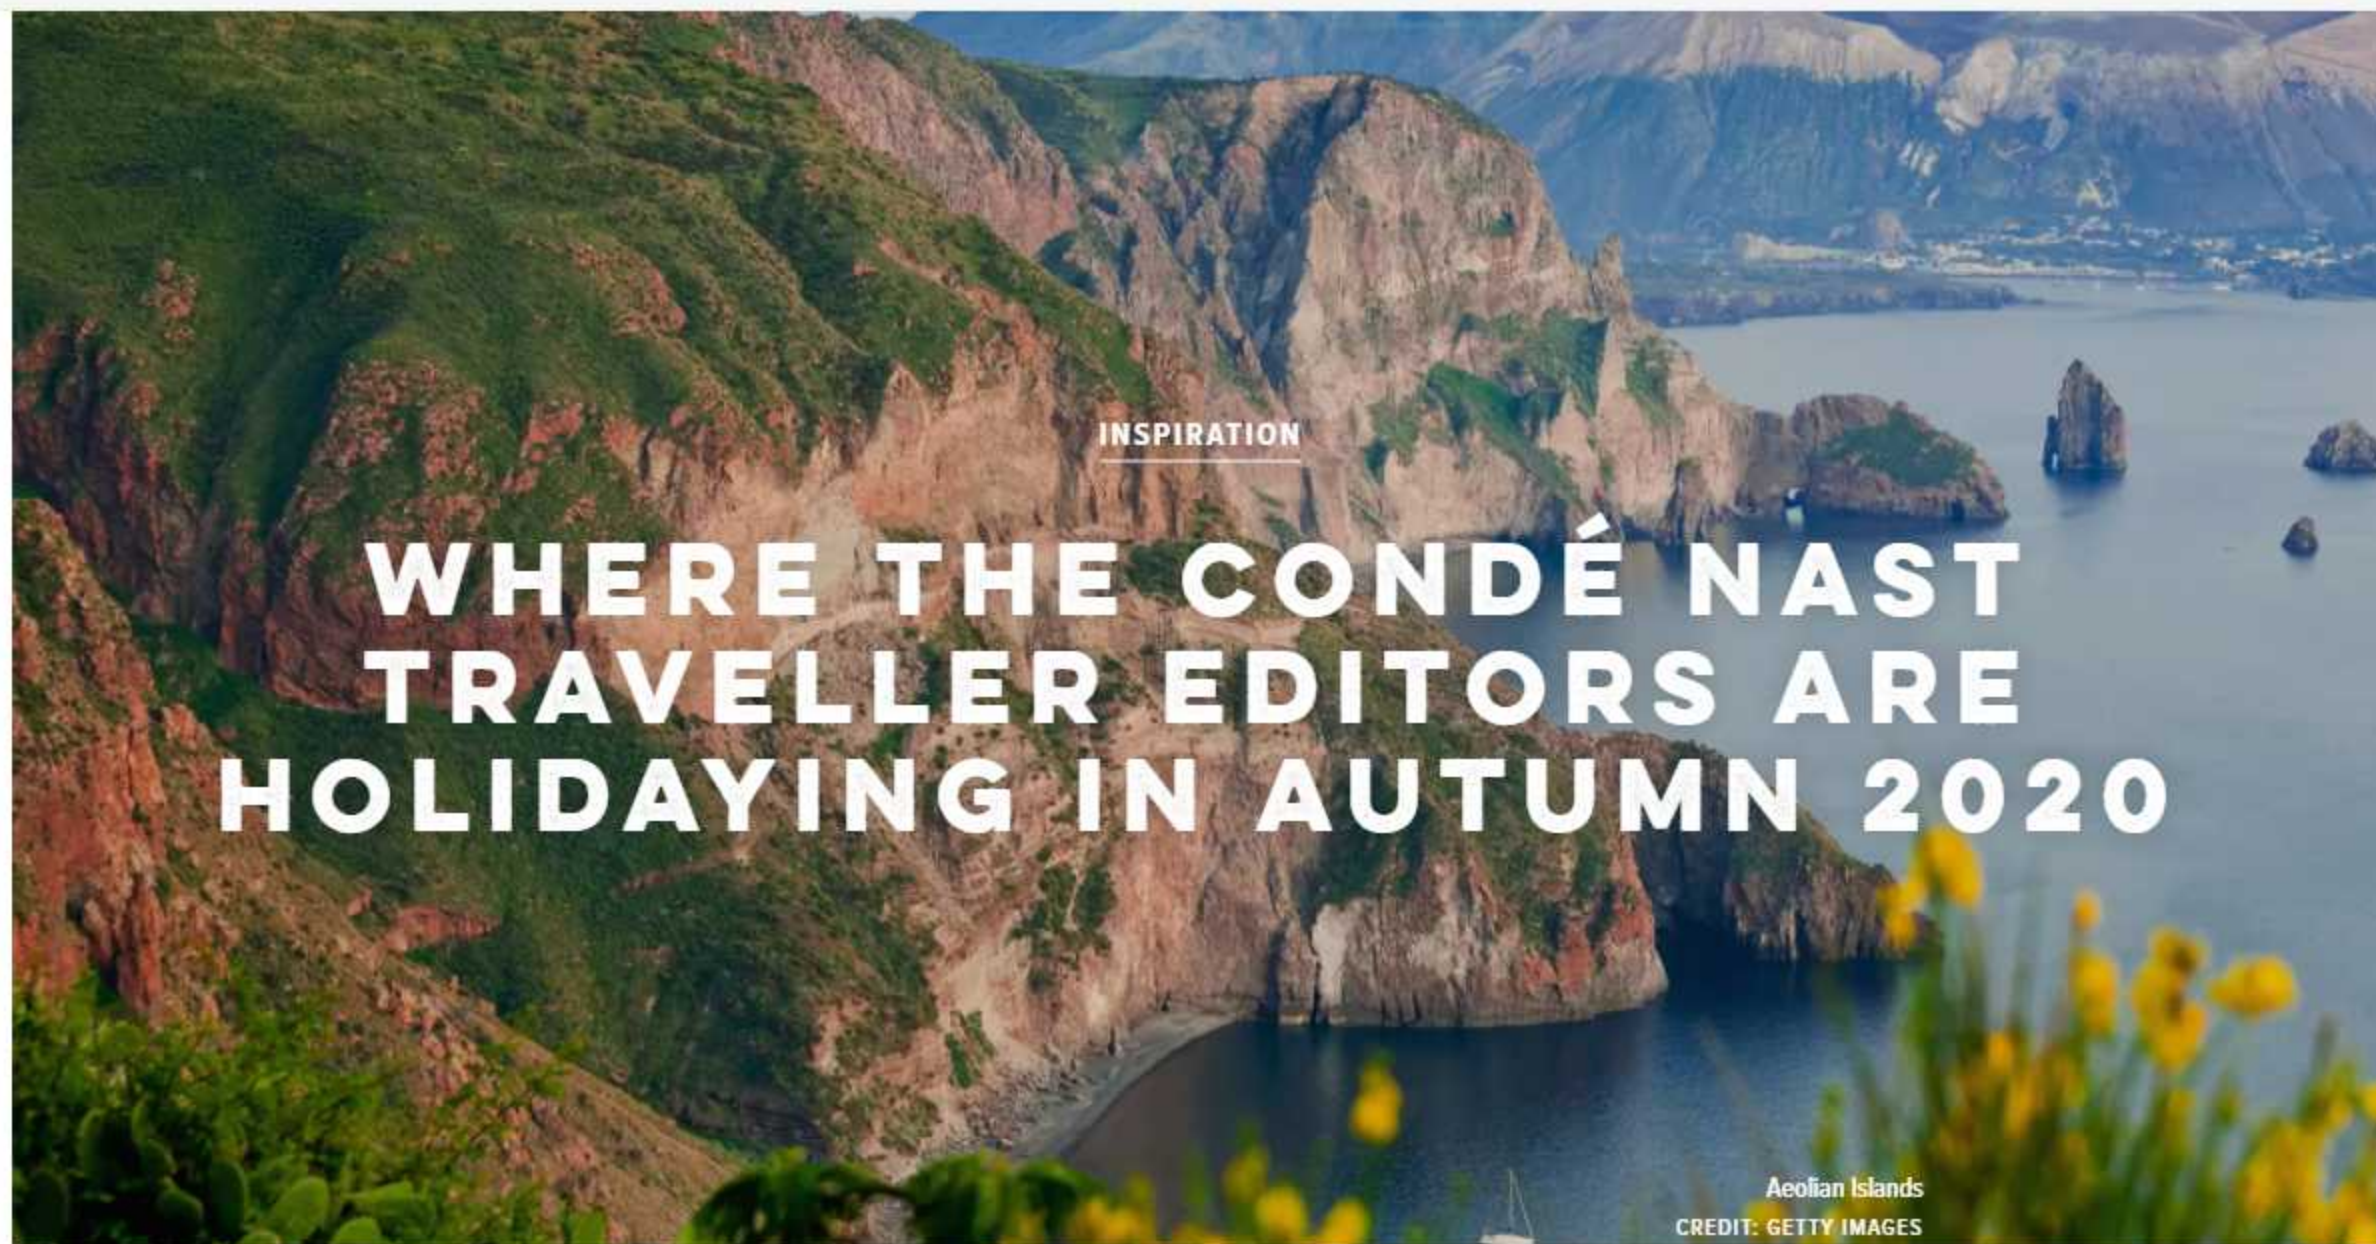

INSPIRATION

What does the latest Covid vaccine news mean for travel?

INSPIRATION

16 far-flung destinations our editors are booking in 2021

INSPIRATION

WHERE THE CONDÉ NAST TRAVELLER EDITORS ARE HOLIDAYING IN AUTUMN 2020

Aeolian Islands

CREDIT: GETTY IMAGES

Our editors reveal where they're heading to this autumn – including a couple of hopeful dashes to Europe and lots of opportunities for leaf-peeking on the British Isles

by CONDÉ NAST TRAVELLER

14 Nov 2020

HARROGATE, YORKSHIRE AND COVERACK, CORNWALL

Becky Lucas, Digital editor

'I have wanted to visit Harrogate for a while now, especially since one of my good friends described it as "the Crouch End of the North" – ie, crammed with pretty Georgian houses and steamy tea shops that are particularly inviting during autumn – then promptly moved there. She also alerted me to the fact that Grantley Hall, the local country-house big-hitter located on the edge of the Yorkshire Dales, was reopening following a three-year renovation. Fortunately my postponed April visit should now be possible in September. I'm excited about going for open-air swims in the hydrotherapy pool and refusing to come out of the cedar hot tub. And I will obviously be stopping by Bettys Cafe Tea Rooms back in Harrogate, to sample the legendary afternoon tea as well as a Fat Rascal – a cake that sits somewhere between a scone and a rock cake but with added Yorkshire attitude. Later I'll head to Ukiyo, a beautiful, recently renovated, glass-fronted house that sits on the cliffs of Coverack in Cornwall, looking out at the Lizard Peninsula and ocean below – because perhaps nowhere in the world is more reviving than a Cornish beach under the autumn-winter sun.'