

THE BEACH HOUSE

The Edge – Whitsand Bay, Cornwall

Blue water unfurls as far as the eye can see from this eco-friendly cliffside beach house – once a tumbled-down shack – poised in what's considered locally as Cornwall's 'forgotten corner'. Bi-fold doors and floor-to-ceiling windows (plus plenty of portholes) reveal it all, ensuring a vast sense of space. Fresh-white interiors channel coastal elegance across the open-plan living area, which features a log burner for cooler evenings, and a fully kitted-out kitchen so you can make the most of the county's bounteous natural larder. A private path leads directly to the quiet sands below – a spot that's occasionally frequented by a pod of dolphins frolicking in the surf – while a hot tub, yoga deck, alfresco shower and terrace complete with Weber barbecue encourage outdoor living across the board. Sleeps 2 (pets welcome). From £1,495 for 4 nights. uniquehomestays.com

Photos by Rachel Smith Photography; Unique Homestays;
David Curran; Lewis Harrison-Pinder; Peter Marlowe
Foundation/Magnum Photos; Phil Wilkinson

