Handcrafted meets upcycled at Firefly. Perched on the fringes of Newquay's sandy shores, this self-catering hideaway gets back to nature. Spend days wildlife spotting, surfing, and fire feasting and should the storms set in, there's ample vintage reading material, classic board games, and even a hidden television to entertain cabin guests. The luxury cottage – complete with a kingsized bed, velvet sofa a rain shower surrounded by corrugated iron – is pure understated elegance.
