

BRITISH TRAVEL JOURNAL

Escape to Your Own Private Oasis: Ultimate Self-Catering Stays

Looking to escape to your own private oasis and unwind? We've compiled a list of top self-catering stays for the season, from a charming thatched cottage in Dorest to a relaxing outdoor bathtub with picturesque views in Skye. Discover the ultimate in relaxation and luxury by indulging in some quality alone time in these beautiful retreats.

The Fable, Perranporth, Cornwall

Fans of The White Company rejoice – you can now stay in a thatched Cornish cottage decorated in collaboration with the luxury brand. From the minute you step through the door, it'll feel like you're in a White Company catalogue. The air is scented with Lime & Bay, cashmere throws are draped over sofas, and the two bedrooms have fine linens and the fluffiest dressing gowns. Outside, there's a hot tub in the garden, and the sandy beach of Perranporth on the north Cornish coast is just ten minutes away.

A week for four from £1,695, uniquehomestays.com