

Top 10 country-style interior trends for 2024

Plus easy switches and top buys to instantly update your space...

It's that time of the year when we start thinking about what is to come and what 2024 might have in store for us – and our homes and interiors are no exception.

Whilst interior design should stand the test of time, it's also important to be mindful of new design directions to keep your space looking fresh. Sometimes all it takes is something as simple as rearranging your mantelpiece or updating the cushions on your sofa to give a room a completely different feel.

If there's one thing we can say about interiors for 2024, it's that they aren't going to be bland. The age of beige is officially over: rich colours, bold patterns and opulent designs are set to add the feel-good factor to our homes in the coming months.

We've identified 10 of the biggest country-friendly design directions and interior trends for 2024 that you can easily incorporate into your home for an instant refresh, or to provide inspiration if you are planning on redecorating – along with our top buys for each.

1 CHEQUERBOARD

Although black-and-white chequered floors are a design classic, the new chequerboard is bolder, brighter and working its way up onto walls.

Chestnut browns and rusty reds lend themselves particularly well to checked kitchen walls – and achieving this look is easier than you may think. Annie Sloan's chalk paints can be used to create a grid design on flooring and tiles without the need to sand, prime or retille.

Pictured: Kitchen designed by Emma Ainscough at Charlotte's Folly, a Unique Homestays property